FUSION BODYBUILDING introduces SLEEPING•GIANT - The 24-HOUR MUSCLE-GROWTH STACK.

Guelph, Canada – September 16, 2008. FUSION BODYBUILDING is proud to announce the release of its 24-hour muscle-growth stack, SLEEPING•GIANT™. The stack was developed thanks to the savvy and insightful use of FUSION products by dedicated bodybuilders. It was they who initially brought together the testosterone-boosting power of FUSION's ZEUS and unique muscle-sleep-inducing qualities of FUSION's SHUT•EYE. Now FUSION has made it simple for everyone to awake their muscle-building giant by offering these products together in SLEEPING•GIANT.

Now bodybuilders can maximize their muscle growth day and night.

During the day, ZEUS boosts testosterone levels by 98.81%. This extreme level of testosterone makes building massive muscle possible. In fact, ZEUS is the only bodybuilding supplement clinically shown to increase testosterone levels in humans. ZEUS also increases protein synthesis and stimulates muscle growth to help bodybuilders build muscle and get stronger fast. And because ZEUS keeps working after the gym to stimulate post-workout muscle building, it also speeds recovery.

At night, SHUT•EYE induces muscle sleep, the fragile stage of sleep when the body's testosterone and growth-hormone levels are at their highest. This is the period when the body is focused on building muscle. It's the pay-off for hard work in the gym. However, muscle sleep can be difficult to achieve. That's why SHUT•EYE contains a special complex that helps bodybuilders achieve muscle sleep without being habit-forming. SHUT•EYE also contains a muscle-growth complex that enhances muscle sleep by further stimulating growth-hormone production. SHUT•EYE also reduces natural cortisol secretions, reducing its muscle-wasting potential.
